“Nyepi” Day of Silence Balinese New Year

RESORT PROGRAM

Balinese Day Of Silence, Nyepi Caka Year 1940

On Saturday, 17 March 2018, Balinese will celebrate Nyepi Caka Year of 1940, the beginning of Hindu New Year. Nyepi is observed as a day of complete silence without any noise, traffic, fire and lights. It begins at 6AM on Saturday, 17 March and ends the next day at 6AM.

Three days prior to Nyepi, Hindu Balinese will perform Melasti purification ceremony. It is a ritual to cleanse the world from all the filth of sin and bad karma, through the symbolic act of acquiring the Tirta Amerta, "the water of life". There will be many colorful Balinese processions happening around the island including Nusa Dua and the main ritual will be at Kuta Beach.

One day before Nyepi, purification sacrifices and offerings are made around Bali, including Bualu village, Nusa Dua. In the evening, a Pengurupukan ceremony is held to appease the evil spirits who are believed will descend on earth this particular night to disturb the stability of peace. Young and old will crowd the streets, light fires and make any conceivable noise which they believe will arouse the evil spirits. This local crowd will be parading OGOH-OGOH, giant cartoon-like monsters made of paper mache applied to a bamboo frame. Don't miss to see the Ogoh Ogoh parade from 6.30PM onwards at Bualu village close to the Nusa Dua gates. Should you wish to enjoy this auspicious ritual, please contact Service Express at extension "0". It's a photo opportunity that is not to be missed.

Most Balinese choose to observe Nyepi in their ancestral village or home compound. Any form of fire, physical work, travel or revelry is prohibited. Balinese adults choose to fast and meditate as part of their personal journey of self-contemplation. The day after Nyepi marks a new beginning and is also a time of forgiveness where past wrongdoings are excused. On 18 March, all venues will be open as per regular opening hours.
